FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, 1885.

PROSPECTUS.

Many maintain that the day of weekly newspapers is past in Honolulu; that the people want their news and food for thought fresh with their coffee every day; and that the people are willing to pay for what they want. At the very nominal figure established as the Job Steam Printing Office, Per Alameda & John D. Spreckels, subscription price of Honolulu Dailies, fifty cents a month, it must be borne in mind that six or seven hundred, or even a thousand subscribers is but a mere bagatelle toward the expense of conducting a newspaper. Our advertising rates are not such as would satisfy our Pacific Coast contemporaries, or in fact any but these who labor for the love of it rather than for profit. This paper will not be run for glory, but will conducted on a sound financial basis and value received will be given to its patrons in every case. We believe that the independant elements in the community will appreciate and properly support a daily morning paper that is outspoken and independent in its utterances.

The Daily Honolulu Press will be published every morning, Sunday's excepted, for the proprietors, Messrs. L. T. Valentine and Arthur Johnstone. Mr. Valentine will be the responsible business manager and Mr. Johnstone will be the responsible editor of the paper. It will be the aim of the management to make the HONOLULU PRESS a newspaper in every sense of the word. The paper will contain twenty-eight columns including a daily average of from six to eight columns of local news, editorial matter and short pithy articles of general CERTIFICATES OF STOCK interest to the residents of the Hawaiian Islands. It will be made distinctively a family newspaper, and will endeavor to reach the interests of all classes of citizens without introducing the objectional features of the newspapers of large cities.

The editorial department will be conducted in a candid, manly and impartial manner, and while political' theories and public actions will be carefully probed, and, in many cases, severely criticized, the utterances of the paper will be jealously guarded and not allowed to degenerate into abuse or per sonal detraction. In the main, editorial articles will be short and always to the point; but in cases where the facts warrant and public opinion demands, fuller expositions of living issues will be given.

Our local department will contain everything of interest to the general readers of the islands and will include local notes from the other islands and general correspondence on local topics. This department will be made spicy and readable, and will, from time to time be interspersed with humorous local episodes. Full reports of all public events and social entertainments will be given and a just equipoise will be established among our various social elements for special news.

The shipping department will be made full and correct and special arrangements will be made for weekly corrected lists of foreign shipping. Full shipping notes of our inter-island traffic will be given, and the interests and convenience of shippers will be carefully studied and provided for.

Our advertising department will be conducted on liberal business principles in such a manner that the ends of patrons may be reached by placing their wants and desires before a majority of the reading public. Promptness and correctness in this department will be assured. 'Arrangements have been made with the proprietors of the Saturday Press to carry out all unexpired advertising contracts and subscriptions, which will faithfully done. Collections will be made monthly and all bills against this paper will be paid monthly upon presentation to the business manager.

In conclusion, the chief aim of the HONOLULU PRESS will be to foster and protect Hawaiian interests while especial attention will be given to individual industries and plantation enterprises. We expect to merit the support of the community and respect-fully ask the privilege of a fair trial.

A certain Profane owl who set up late o' nights, and kept a large Collection of Straws for the Purpose of ascertaining the Direction of the Wind, was asked by the Fox whether his Party could not gain Possession of the Public Treasury. "Your Question," said the Profane Owl, winking his left Eye, "reminds me of the Horse who said that he could trot a Mile in a Minute if it were not that the Distance was too great for the Time. I see only one reason why you cannot succeed" "What is that?" said the Fox. "The other Party has too Tam many Votes," replied the Owl. MORAL. The Census should be taken after the Process of Incubation has been completed. A Fox who wagers 4 to 3 against a foregone conclusion is apt to lose his Friends'
